

M'CUMBER SEES DELAY ON TAX LEGISLATION

Predicts No New Bills Will Be Passed in Congress at Forthcoming Session

PLEASED WITH TARIFF

Declares There Is no Excuse
For Increase in Price
As Result

Congress will enact no new tax legislation at the forthcoming short session, Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota, chairman of the finance committee, predicted today on his return from a two week's motor trip in New England. The North Dakota Senator also took occasion to express satisfaction with the way the Fordney-McCumber tariff law is working, says Edgar Markham, writing from Washington, in the St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

Senator McCumber is taking no active part in the political campaign. His chief interest is in the June primary election, is declared to be responsible for his not taking the stump in North Dakota. The motor trip has greatly improved the senator's health.

"The country would not stand for additional taxes," said Senator McCumber in commenting on reports that legislation of this character may be proposed. "I do not believe such a bill could pass Congress," he added.

Asked about the deficit at the end of the current fiscal year, which is estimated at about $700,000,000, and in some quarters even higher, Senator McCumber said it would be met by the issue of certificates of indebtedness or other short term paper. He pointed to the recent successful flotation of a half billion dollars worth of bonds by the treasury as showing that there would be no serious difficulty in financing the deficit.

"The new tariff law is working well," Senator McCumber said. "In spite of predictions to the contrary before the bill was passed, it has had no detrimental effect. On the contrary, it has been helpful to business, as we predicted it would be. It is justifying the claims that were made for it."

"Much was said about the new tariff being prohibitive, but the facts are that importations for the last month have been the largest in history. Imports are keeping up in healthful volume, as they should, from day to day. I believe they will keep up. Prices to the consumer have not increased. In some cases, there have been decreases.

"The new law was pretty carefully worked out and for my part I do not expect that revision of the tariff will be necessary in the near future. I am aware there has been some talk of this kind and I am glad to see the flexible features of the law. He expressed the view that there will be few occasions when this authority will be exercised by the President.

"I do not believe it will be necessary to either raise or lower rates except in a few instances," he said.

REVOLVER IN CARLETON WOMAN'S HAND NOT HERS; DIAMOND RINGS MISSING

(By the Associated Press)
Havre, Mont., Nov. 1.—Unexplained features of the double killing early Friday of the Rev. Leonard Jacob Christler and Mrs. Margaret Carleton still puzzled authorities here today.

When a coroner's jury Saturday night returned a verdict to the effect Mrs. Carleton did the shooting while under the influence of an overdose of sleeping powders, the matter appeared closed. But Mrs. Carleton's mother, Mrs. Joseph Pyle of Butte, was not satisfied, and started a further investigation.

Within the past 24 hours it was shown the bullets which killed Mrs. Carleton had been fired downward, not upward, as had been testified at the coroner's inquest.

Ownership of the gun which was used in the killing is another mystery. It was not Mrs. Carleton's as far as is known. She had a revolver, a smaller weapon, which was found later among her effects. Investigation thus far has failed to disclose that it was the property of the Christlers. Mrs. Pyle also has claimed that diamond rings which Mrs. Carleton was seen wearing Thursday evening have not been found and has suggested that if the rings were taken from Mrs. Carleton's hand after the shooting the revolver might have been placed in the open palm at the same time.

ASSAULT CASE IS POSTPONED TILL MONDAY

State Asks Continuance in the Case of Harry Long, Who Struck E. A. Hughes

Hearing in the case of Harry Long of Milwaukee, charged with assault and battery on E. A. Hughes, was continued in police court today until Monday at the request of State's Attorney McCurdy, who said he would be unable to be present in court this afternoon. The matter was set for 2 p. m. Monday.

The case had been scheduled for 2 o'clock this afternoon. However, it was called up this morning at 10 o'clock because the state's attorney could not be present. Long said that he was not ready at 10 o'clock and readily agreed to postponement until Monday, saying the state's attorney had already explained the pros of other business to him and it was quite all right.

"Mr. McCurdy said that he did not like to take up the matter until after election but that he would do so Monday at 10 a. m. if the defendant desired.

Long had not furnished bail, which was fixed in the sum of $1,000. He continued to maintain silence concerning the affair, but said that he expected out-of-town people to furnish bail and to get an outside lawyer.

He declined to say anything concerning his motive but asserted that he told Mr. Hughes before he struck him why he did so. He said that he had called in a local lawyer but that the lawyer was interested in a case in which Mr. Hughes was interested and he did not care to act. He also declared that he had given his real name, and that he was not afraid of his record or he would not have consented to the postponement. He also asserted it was the first time he had ever been arraigned.

Mr. Hughes was still in the hospital, and it was said by friends that his back injured when he fell on the curb.

NORMALCY IS RESTORED BY THE FASCISTI

Thrill of Real Roman Triumph
Given Way to Business
Routine

RULE WITH FIRMNESS

Mussolini Puts Forth Effort
To Restore Italy to Better Basis

(By the Associated Press)
Rome, Nov. 1.—Italy will be on the road back to normalcy today after a most exhilarating week that saw the younger generation rise to power and in a great triumph overthrow the older politicians.

Tens of thousands of the vigorous young Fascisti and their enthusiastic admirers who accompanied them here from all over the land were on the way back to their homes today.

Yesterday there was the thrill of a real Roman triumph in which a million people made the streets ring with applause for king and country and Dr. Benito Mussolini and his new Fascisti ministry had taken their oaths before the sovereign. As soon as this formal ceremony has ended, the black-shirted boys and men who brought about the rise of Mussolini, marched as victors through the ancient streets of the city, crowded with a vast concourse that for the day doubled the population of Rome.

Today, the flush of triumph gave way to the drab business of toil, individual and national. Dr. Mussolini was on the job early, and he said he was going to see to it that everybody else engaged in the business of the nation followed suit. He made it plain that he was going to run with an iron hand that Italy might the sooner be restored to a better place in international affairs.

For the moment at least, Communism has no part in the life of Italy. The onslaught of the Fascisti has rendered all radicalism a paralyzing blow. Carrying their battle into the labor temples and the meeting places of their antagonists, the militant nationalists have seized the records and rosters and burned them.

Politically the chief topic in Italy today is what the future of the new cabinet will be when it goes before the chambers of deputies. One thing is certain. If Mussolini's government does not receive a majority in the chamber, he will have parliament dissolved and then the Fascisti will take their cause to the country.

Mussolini made this clear last Monday when he built a new cabinet at the request of the king.

PRESENTS RESIGNATION

Rome, Nov. 1.—Vittorio Rolando Ricci, Italian ambassador at Washington, has presented his resignation like his colleagues, Count Sforza, ambassador at Paris, and Senator Frassati, ambassador at Berlin, wishing to leave Premier Mussolini free to choose his own trusted men for such important posts.

It developed today that Premier Mussolini had sent a reply to the letter of resignation from Count Sforza, which was received yesterday, reproaching him for his action and asking him to remain at his post.

Scrambled Politics In State Contests

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 1.—A situation showing the scrambled condition of politics in North Dakota was made public here today.

Two Republican congressmen of North Dakota both seeking re-election have taken a stand for election of a Democrat as United States senator it was announced at the Independent Association headquarters, an anti-Nonpartisan league organization.

They are O. B. Burtness and George M. Young, first and second congressional districts of the state, who endorsed J. E. T. O'Connor, anti-Nonpartisan, and Democrat, R. J. Frazier, a Nonpartisan, as chairman of the Republican state central committee recently issued a statement calling for party loyalty and endorsing these two congressmen.

THREE MEN BEING WATCHED IN CONNECTION WITH HALL- MILLS DUAL MURDER CASE

(By the Associated Press)
New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 1.—An eye witness account of the Hall-Mills murder on September 24, Mrs. Jane Gibson, farmer, told the authorities, it was learned today, that a few moments before the fatal shooting she heard one of the women under the crabapple tree exclaim indignantly:

"Then explain these letters."

This part of Mrs. Gibson's story came to light through a conversation she had with a neighbor after making her statement to investigators. There was a moment or two of heat argument, she said, after the explanation was demanded, then, without warning the shooting.

Notes that were said to have passed between the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, the murder victims, were found strewn about their bodies under the tree.

Movements of the investigators today, though veiled in secrecy, appeared to be centered for the most part in keeping under surveillance three men answering descriptions given by Mrs. Gibson. It was reported that Special Deputy Attorney General Mott intended at an opportune moment to bring the three before Mrs. Gibson.

Maintaining that he felt confident that the eye witness story told by Mrs. Jane Gibson would "stand up," Special Deputy Attorney General Wilbur A. Mott continued today his efforts to identify the man Mrs. Gibson described as being the murderer of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills.

According to Mrs. Gibson witnesses have been found to corroborate her statement a woman wearing a long "gray coat" was on the Phillips farm on the night of the murder.

Breaking her silence for the first time, Mrs. Frances Neel Hall today told reporters that she was absolutely ignorant of how her husband, Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, came to meet his death with Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, choir singer, on Phillips farm, September 24.

FOUR REPORTED DEAD RESULT OF TORNADO

Fifteen Injured and 30 Homes
Demolished by Missouri
Storm

Webb City, Mo., Nov. 1.—Hundreds of searches, welcome daylight this morning after five hours spent groping in the darkness in their efforts to find the bodies of four persons who are believed to have lost their lives in the tornado which swept this city just after midnight.

One woman, a Mrs. Freda, was known to have been killed and fifteen other persons were injured, some of them critically, in the storm, which struck in two places in the city. About thirty houses were demolished and more than 30 persons made homeless.

Search for the dead and injured last night was hampered by the fact that a cloud burst preceded the wind storm. It is estimated that from 2 to 4 inches of rain fell within a few hours before the tornado.

The storm struck first in the southern part of the city, and, passing over the business section, dipped down again in the northwest residential section.

DEPOSITS IN POSTAL BANKS IN DECLINE

Washington, Nov. 1.—Postal saving deposits continue to shrink, but the decrease during the quarter ended September 30 was smaller than in any three months period since March, 1919, when deposits reached the peak. Assistant Postmaster General Glover declared today in a statement which said erroneous unofficial reports as to the postal savings decline had been published. Deposits in March 1919, reached the unprecedented figure of $176,228,524 declining gradually since to $139,625,000 on September 30.

"The decrease," Mr. Glover stated, "is due to a very large extent to three causes: namely, extremely heavy withdrawals in these offices adjacent to the coal fields, decreased deposits at the large railway centers, and finally the recent withdrawals of the old issue of treasury savings certificates paying 4 1/2 percent and the issuing of a new series under date of October 1 at the reduced rate of interest of four percent. In this quarter the postal savings division can directly trace the withdrawals of over one million dollars which were in turn reinvested in the treasury savings certificates at the higher rate of interest."

Mr. Glover declared that many postoffices were now showing a decided improvement in postal savings deposits "which can only mean a betterment in the industrial situation."

SPOUSE TRAPS HUSBAND THROUGH ADVERTISEMENT

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 1.—How she and her husband of 23 years, corresponded with each other for nearly a year while living under the same roof, without the husband discovering she was the author of the letters he received, was described in court here by Mrs. J. Franklin Moore, wife of a dentist, who is seeking a divorce.

A newspaper advertisement for "a companion for week-end trips," which Mrs. Moore said she suspected had been inserted by her spouse resulted in the exchange of many love letters, she testified. Mrs. Moore asserted she noted when she found postscripts addressed to her husband in feminine handwriting that was not hers.

HALLOWE'EN KEEPS POLICE FORCE BUSY

Rioting, Fires and Other Disturbances Feature Chicago Celebration

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Nov. 1.—Police and firemen on night shifts welcomed the dawn of a new day and quitting time this morning following one of the busiest hallowe'en in Chicago's history.

While the fire department answered 115 alarms during the night, a new record for hallowe'en, most of the fires were small.

Street car traffic was repeatedly interrupted while curmen and police removed wagons, carts, refuse, cans and other obstacles from the tracks.

Rioting started on the north side when a motorist was attacked by a mob after he had driven into a crowd and knocked down a boy. The crowd, which police estimated at 3,000, had gathered to watch a band of boys and girls in freak costumes and their faces blackened, push a blazing wagon through the streets.

Street car men and police who attempted to interfere were pelted with tomatoes. A procession of baby carriages and carts followed the blazing wagon. The spirit was one of hilarity until the boys were run down when the police were compelled to disperse the mob.

Daniel Rataczak, 4 years old, while attending a party tossed a peanut into the air and caught it in his mouth. The nut lodged in his throat. He died at the county hospital.

Ray Nelson, 16, encountered a real wagon while tearing down a fence. The fence belonged to James Dragon, who grabbed a pocket and struck Nelson over the head fracturing his skull.

For a long with General Murguia has been credited with brewing a revolution. Two months ago he left his hiding place across the Rio Grande and came back into Mexico at the head of a rebel army said to number 800 men. Three weeks ago his forces were decisively defeated in a clash with troops under General Escobar at Guasache in the state of Durango. Since then he has carefully avoided meeting federal troops.

The rebellious activities of General Murguia never aroused popular sympathy except in the northern regions, where, as governor of Coahuila under Carranza, he cultivated many adherents. Details of his capture were lacking here yesterday. There were no reports except the announcement made at President Obregon's office.

General Francisco Murguia was executed by a firing squad at 9 o'clock this morning, according to a telegram from Mexico City, received at the customs house in Juarez.

FIGHT OVER TAXI ENDS IN MURDER

Minneapolis, Nov. 1.—H. A. Smith, 30 years old, was shot and killed last night following an altercation with his brother, Prentiss Smith, 35 years old, at the home where both men lived.

According to police, Prentiss Smith came at once to the police station, laid a revolver on the desk of Lieutenant Charles Bleed and said that he had killed his brother.

According to the police, Smith told them the shooting followed a fist fight which grew out of an argument over the hiring of a taxi cab. According to Smith's story he wanted to hire an automobile to take them to the outskirts of the city on a business trip, but his brother objected because of the cost. The fist fight and subsequent shooting followed, Smith said.

He is held without charge awaiting action by the county attorney. The Smiths are negroes.

LENINE GAINS HIS HEATH

(By the Associated Press)
Moscow, Nov. 1.—Soviet Moscow is now assured that Prime Minister Lenin is in good physical condition and fine spirits. He spoke publicly yesterday for the first time since his prolonged illness, making an unheralded appearance before the workmen's and peasants' parliament. He spoke with vigor and his voice carried clearly throughout the immense throne room in the Kremlin palace.

Lenine voiced his pleasure at the capture of Vladivostok by the Red forces of the Far Eastern republic. He remarked that this had given Pacific, but he cautioned the parliament not to overestimate the value of the incident.

Russians would make a strong stand at the League conference to make a New East peace, the prime minister went on, explaining the question of the straits would be particularly emphasized by the Soviet, whose diplomacy, Lenine thought, "would be just as successful at Lausanne as it had been in the Far East."

He was quite frank about the depressed state of affairs throughout Russia but declared that Russia was doing more to bring changes for the better than any other country.

YELLOWSTONE TRAIL FUND IS $500,000

Marathon, N. D., Nov. 1.—Raising of a $500,000 fund for trail organization work to cover a five-year period, of which North Dakota would pay $12,500 or $25,000 yearly, was approved at the 12th annual convention of the North Dakota division of the Yellowstone Trail association held here Saturday. Mr. Phelan was unanimously elected committeeman.

MASONS HERE IN DISCUSSION OF EDUCATION

Members Urged to Participate
In Educational Activities
As Good Citizens

W. L. Stockwell, secretary of the Masonic Grand Lodge, and Rev. W. J. Hutcheson, field secretary of the Masonic Service association, were the chief speakers last night at a joint meeting of the Bismarck and Mandan Masonic lodges, held in the temple here.

The meeting was in observance of Education Week, which all Masonic lodges were called upon to observe.

Both the speakers of Mr. Stockwell and Rev. Hutcheson were devoted to a discussion of the problems of education, and all those present were urged as good citizens to take a deep interest in all educational matters and to inform themselves of what is going on in the educational work.

Committees from the local lodge which had been appointed to visit the schools in the city reported their observations, simply telling the hearers what they found without indulging in conclusions.

Supt. H. O. Saxvik of the city schools addressed the meeting for a few minutes on the topic of education. A number of questions were answered.

In the afternoon the visitors discussed the yearly program of Masonic lodges in the southwestern part of the state with representatives.

N. Y. POLICE ON TRAIL OF FIRE BUGS

New York, Nov. 1.—Joseph Prestomoniak was arrested early today as he ran from the hallway of an uptown apartment where a fire had been started. Police are inclined to believe the arrest may aid in solving the mystery of two fires in uptown apartments recently in which 22 lives were lost.

Patrolman Ryan passing a three story tenement thought he saw flames. Opening the door he bumped into Prestomoniak who was running out. Ryan grabbed the man and forced him to take off his coat and beat out the flames. He then took him to the police station.

Prestomoniak told detectives he had gone to the tenement to see a "friend" whose name he was unable to tell. An investigation disclosed evidence that the woodwork of the stairs had been soaked in kerosene. A milk bottle half full of the oil was found on the landing on the third floor.

COUNTIES MUST HAVE 24 TWPS. COURT HOLDS

North Dakota counties must have twenty-four townships affirms the Supreme Court in handing down its previously announced decision in the case of an attempt to create a new county in Renville and Burke and Ward.

Petition No. 1, reduced Renville to eighteen townships, continues the opinion. Petition No. 2 reduced Renville county to six townships. Each petition must stand alone before a court declared North Dakota's supreme tribunal and therefore two petitions are illegal. Therefore, petition No. 3 does not cure, and the court decided it will not mandamus the county commissioners to place the question of the new county before the voters for this would be waste of time.

COUNTY AGENT MAKES FIGHT ON THISTLE

Found in McKenzie County
And Effort Will Be Made
To Check Invasion

Perennial Sow Thistle, that dreaded weed which has caused thousands of dollars of damage to crops in northern North Dakota, has made its appearance in McKenzie county, plants having been found and identified by County Agent M. B. Johnson near Arnegard this summer. Another patch was also found near Carlson, in the northern part of the county. This is the first known instance of this weed being found west of the Missouri river in North Dakota, although thousands of acres of crop have been practically destroyed by the pest in the northeastern counties of the state. None has yet been found in Burleigh county.

—Farmers of the Arnegard neighborhood have been warned by the county agent to look out for this pest and destroy every plant by digging and destroying the roots before there is a chance for it to go to seed. Organized vigilance may be necessary to prevent this weed spreading here as it has in other parts of the state. The weed first came to North Dakota from Canada about 20 years ago, making its appearance in northeastern Pembina county. Since that time, authorities estimate that it has spread regularly in all directions at the rate of 20 miles per year.

This plant may reach a height of from one to seven feet, usually standing from six inches to a foot above the grain in the field. The leaves vary greatly in size and shape, usually being from three to five inches long, and an average of less than an inch in width, with scalloped edges, flatter than the ordinary thistle leaf and without sticklers. The first year the plant develops its root system and underground stem. The following year blossoms and seed are produced. The blossoms are the size of a dandelion and have the same golden color. Several dozen may appear on one plant. The seeds have a little parachute-like attachment, so that the wind will carry them for miles. The plant will also reproduce from the underground stem, in the same way as quackgrass, and will grow from it each year. Where the infestation is heavy, land often has to be worked from five to eight times during a season to get rid of the weed.

URGES WHEAT BE USED FOR FEEDING STOCK

Assistant Dairy Commissioner
Says Low Price of Some
Wheats Justifies Use

BY W. R. PAGE, ASSISTANT DAIRY COMMISSIONER.

The low price of medium and mixed varieties of durum wheats and the poorer grades of spring wheat in many instances will justify their use for feed. Unless there are abundant supplies of coarse grains already on the farm for feeding purposes, the grower is not warranted in hauling cheap wheats long distances to get cash returns that would be no greater or perhaps even less than he might secure by feeding it on the farm.

Wheat has been proven of high feeding value in numerous experiments conducted by widely distributed stations.

In general, for fattening purposes, wheat is equivalent, pound for pound, to corn or barley. It is more suitable for growing animals than corn because it is a richer protein feed and is higher in mineral substances.

When fed to cows for milking purposes, wheat has proven of equal value to corn meal or ground barley. The shrunken and shriveled wheats are higher in protein than the plumper kernels and so for growing stock have comparatively higher feeding value.

However, except when fed to sheep, wheat must be ground or rolled to secure the results above mentioned, as is also true with the other whole grains. Ground wheat tends to form a sticky mass in the mouth. For this reason, when fed to cattle, it is well to mix with it a little ground oats, bran or bright chaff. Or it may be fed advantageously by mixing it with silage. If fed to hogs it is eaten best in the form of a thin

Political Broadcastings

Between 250 and 300 absent voters have been voted in Bismarck. The number is larger than in the primary to date but not larger than the previous regular election.

Senator LaFollette spoke in Fargo yesterday afternoon and in Grand Forks last night, for Mr. Frazier. There are politicians here who see also in LaFollette's trip the opening shot of his campaign for the presidential nomination in 1924.

Senator Porter J. McCumber has been ill in Washington, and took a two weeks motor trip into New England on physician's advice. He has returned to Washington to take up the laborious work as chairman of the finance committee, preparing for the forthcoming session.

Longer leaders insist their candidates have gained remarkably in the last two weeks.

All sorts of floats are planned as a feature of the big parade here Saturday night at the Shafter meeting. For sheep feeding purposes it should not be ground because it is richly whole and gives better results accordingly.

Durum wheat worth 60c per bushel sells for $20.00 per ton, while in parts of North Dakota bran sells for $23.50. Unless the bran is used badly as a protein supplement, wheat can be ground at home and fed in its place, this not only bringing a market price for the wheat but also for any wild oats or other dockage that it might contain.

When fed to dairy cows, in combination with good prairie hay or bright corn fodder, one pound of wheat to three pounds milk is recommended. Fed in this proportion, to good dairy cows, with butterfat at 40c per pound, wheat would be expected to return 2c per pound or $1.20 per bushel.

Local conditions must, of course, determine the advisability of feeding wheat or selling it for cash. The values above stated are all based on its replacement value for other grains.

Wherever good livestock are being underfed the addition of wheat to the ration (or other grain), could be expected to give much greater returns than mentioned. Remember that a farm animal feeds itself first and not until the maintenance requirement of their bodies are satisfied do they commence working for their owner by turning the surplus feed consumed into profitable animal products.

A SIN TO LET HAIR FALL OUT

35c "Danderine" Saves Your Hair—Ends Dandruff! Delightful Tonic

Hurry! It's your duty! Each day you see a little more hair falling out and you are making no effort to avoid baldness. What a pity. Falling hair means your hair is weak, sick, possibly dandruff is strangling it, or the hair root pores in the scalp are not firm and tight, thus wasting the hair-growing oils.

Danderine almost instantly stops falling hair of men or women and cleans every particle of dandruff away, then the hair takes on new life, vigor and strength to grow strong, thick, and long. Danderine is delightful—not sticky or greasy. Go to any drugstore now and get a bottle. Use it. Have healthy, beautiful hair and lots of it. —Adv.

Makes Pla For Church Advertising

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Church advertising of today is competitive and not cooperative, declared Robert J. Presbyter, assistant manager of the Presbyterian publicity department, in speaking here today before the National Conference on Church Publicity.

"Churches of this country will never begin to do the good they might among the vast army of non-churchgoers until in their paid display space they adopt the principles of church unity which leaders of the various denominations have craved upon times without number," he said.

"Recent examination of church pages of about 200 newspapers show that more than 90 percent of all the churches advertise the topics of the morning and evening services. These announcements almost invariably open with the name of the church, thereby limiting their appeal to those who are interested in the denomination or particular church named."

"Attendants should be drawn to this service, not by the name of the church in which the sermon is to be delivered, but by some phrase or group of words designed to reach the man who ordinarily goes nowhere to church. Church advertising should follow the fairly well defined practice of commercial advertising and put at the bottom of the advertisement the name of the church using the space."

By having a certain "conversation" all and newspaper form the church bulletin may reach every corner of the parish, the Rev. Claude R. Shaw said.

Among the visitors were Gil Hargard, Fargo Rotarian and Mr. Johnson, former public examiner under Gov. L. B. Hanna.

Geo. Bird presided during the presentation of the program. S. E. Bergeson discussed the matter of good roads.

DEMON'S SPEED
An airplane with a speed of 500 miles an hour will be developed "within a comparatively short time." So predicts Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service.

Then, says Mitchell, a business man will be able to leave New York City, early in the morning, fly to England, have lunch, transact business, and return home before dark.

If so, what would happen to prohibition? A picture rises, of a rum-hound flying over to London for a spree, back the same day.

In flying at terrific speed, such as 500 miles an hour, the chief problem would be supplying air to passengers and crew.

Mitchell tells of experiments, being conducted by the army, using oxygen tanks to furnish air for the people in an air-tight cabin of the flying craft.

Fast planes in another generation or two will be as common as autos are today. Devices such as oxygen machines will be needed then. And they will be monopolized by patents.

About 20 years ago a writer in the old Argosy magazine wrote a story, "A Round Trip in the Year 2000," in which he pictured earth's inhabitants going about with meters attached to their noses. A trust had monopolized the air and was making people pay for the privilege of breathing. Maybe this writer was more of a prophet than a "romancer."

Interesting problems will rise when airplanes making 500 or 1000 miles an hour, or more, come into general use.

The frontiers of countries then will virtually disappear. The flying machine conquering time and geography, will literally place the far corners of the earth at Mr. Average Man's door.

Prohibition or most other attempts to regulate individuals' conduct will be futile then, unless the laws apply all over the world. What will be the good of a drastic law, applying only in one country, when men will be able to evade it by flying to another country in a few minutes or hours?

What, for instance, would restrain a murderer who could kidnap his victim in secrecy, rush him in a flying machine to an ice berg or jungle, commit the murder, dispose of the body and return? Once home, even if his crime were discovered, he could not be made to answer any charge except kidnapping or assault with intent to kill, the actual murder being committed outside his own country.

The airplane will steadily lessen the effectiveness of many laws within any given country, and international laws will become the most important statutes in the world.

REMEMBER THEM
Here is your opportunity to do something for the disabled soldiers—to help relieve their suffering, to make their lives brighter and, in general, to compensate in part for national negligence.

The opportunity comes Nov. 4, Forget-Me-Not Day. On this day the Disabled American Veterans of the World War make their drive for money to aid their membership.

Giving to this cause is more than a duty. It is a privilege.

The public, when approached by Forget-Me-Not solicitors, should respond generously. No dollar, no dime, could be better spent. It will be a permanent investment in happiness.

NOVEMBER
You can figure on accomplishing a lot during the next 60 days. Scientists, after long study, announce that the human brain does its best work in November and December.

Cool weather is a spur to mental activity, hot weather a brake. You've noticed, hard to think in a hot room.

Brains slow down after Christmas. In March they run at high speed again. The maximum of physical strength comes in April, May, September and October.

TALK
Comedian Raymond Hitchcock has decided that most Americans who go to theaters have a vocabulary of only 500 words—such as yes, no, listen, radio, love, money, papa, mamma, prohibition and say.

Maybe it's for the best.

Even with a vocabulary limited to 500 words, most of us talk too much of the wrong kind of stuff. What would it be like if we had the whole dictionary at our tongues' tip?

JOKES
Raymond Hitchcock, comedian, says Americans have a sense of pie-in-the-face or slapstick fun, but no real sense of humor.

He claims the old jokes go best with audiences because a joke, to an American, is like wine—has to be aged to be appreciated.

That's not the real reason. Old jokes bring laughs, year after year, because a new generation is always growing up that never has heard the old gags. The stuff that is old to grown-ups is new to youth. Actors and scenery change, but life is the same old show, century after century.

The first country to wipe out its World War debt in full is Ocean Island, a Pacific isle that shows up on the map as a pinpoint just south of the equator.

This little island voluntarily rushed to the assistance of New Zealand. It contributed an army of six men. The war debt which it now wipes out totaled only about $17,000. Nevertheless, it was a "big strain" for such a small community.

In getting rid of its war debt as quickly as possible, it demonstrates the horse-sense typical of small communities the world over.

HARDSHIPS OF MOVIE LIFE

If there are among us any hand-some young chaps who feel the urge for the life of a movie hero, let them be forewarned. It isn't all slicked down hair, moonlight, and soulful glances that make the flapper hearts go pitter-pat under peek-a-boo blouses. Not by a jugful. The word of Rudolph Valentino for it.

To be sure Rudolph draws down $1,250 each Saturday night. But the hardships! To begin with, he says his employers gave him a dressing room in a building reserved for plebeian extra actors, such as spear carriers, members of the mob and personages in the background. Think of it! The humiliation of not having a room on which was printed the word "STAR," so that the curious could gather about the door and watch for his appearance.

He wanted a couch to rest upon, when he returned from posing before the camera all tired out from heaving sighs while gazing like a sickly calf into the eyes of the heroine. But instead they built a dressing room for him without a top and furnished a half-barrel upside down for him to sit upon. The sun was burning hot and while changing his costume he sat down on the barrel.

Such cruelty! After that he could not sit down, because everything was too hot. But to add insult to injury, when the picture was finished the corporation paying Valentino's salary mentioned the names of two women as co-stars in its advertising instead of featuring him as the only star.

That's a nice state of affairs isn't it, in this land of the free where slavery was supposed to have been abolished nearly sixty years ago? It is enough to make any rugged cheeked flapper cry. But young men with movie aspirations should know what a hard life they have to endure.—Sioux City Daily Tribune.

A BELATED SEEING OF INTEREST

According to report, the manufacturers of motor cars and the dealers in them have come to realize that it is to their interest to have the driving of these machines restricted to those who can and will do it properly. Hitherto their attitude has been different. They have done what they could to spread the delusion that with a little teaching anybody beyond the age of infancy could become a competent driver.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Many perfectly well-intentioned people are constitutionally unable to make the quick mental responses to nervous stimulation that the safe driving of a motor car requires, and to these folk licenses should be as firmly denied as to the criminal, the drunkard and the drug addict. They are the well-intentioned—among the ones, who, after a series of small accidents, have a big one and kill themselves or somebody else.—New York Times.

HYPOCRITICAL HOKUM

A rich West Virginian, C. Fred Edwards, who had an ambition to represent the state in the United States senate, has been indicted for exceeding the limit set by the state corrupt practice act for state-wide primary expenditure. He admits spending $96,000, whereas the limit is $4,125.

Edwards is the first candidate for high office to be indicted in West Virginia for violation of the corrupt practice law, but his friends assert that he is the first candidate in the state who has ever made a truthful return of his campaign expense. In view of the ridiculous limit the cause of political purity would probably be advanced more by awarding the candidate a distinguished service medal for his virtue in truth-telling than by punishing him for his fault.

The West Virginia law is an example of political "hokum" as applied to reform legislation. The public conscious and the public interest demand that some limit be placed on primary and election expenditures, but the maximum must be fixed to permit a reasonable outlay for legitimate publicity. Over half a million persons voted at the last presidential election in West Virginia, yet its law forbids a candidate to spend even the price of a 1-cent stamp to each elector in a state-wide appeal. Such laws are bound to be evaded and only foster hypocrisy in dealing with an issue which requires honest thinking and sensible legislation for its solution.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

THE ELTINGE

Among the queerest cases of wrong identification resulting from the fatalities of the late war is that of Joe Peters; and the oddest part of it all is that the impersonation of another character was done deliberately. While it might sound even more strange, the truth is that the impersonation was made to further a worthy cause.

Such apparent contradictions form the basis of the after-the-war drama of tender emotions and heart throbs presented by Richard Barthelmess in his latest starring picture at the Eltinge theater Wednesday and Thursday.

"Sonny" in his role of Joe Peters, a waterfront and poolroom character, the star assumes the identity of Sonny Crosby, scion of an aristocratic family, who had been a fatality in the war.

Movie Chats and an Acrop Fallie are also being shown. The Women's Community Council will have the receipts at the Eltinge Wednesday and Thursday.

About that time, a mile and a half to the southward, James Darragh came out on the rocky, rushing outlet of Star Pond.

Over his shoulder was a rifle, and all around him range dogs—big, powerful dogs, built like foxhounds, but with the rough, wiry coats of Alredales, even rougher of ear and features.

He has been seated there for ten minutes, possibly, with his tired dogs lying around him, when just above him he saw a State Trooper emerge from the woods on foot, carrying a rifle over one shoulder.

"Jack!" he called in a guarded voice.

Trooper Stormont turned, caught sight of Darragh, made a signal of recognition, and came toward him. Darragh said: "Your mate, Trooper Lannis, is down stream. I've two of my own game wardens at the cross-roads, two more on the Ghost Lake Road, and two foresters and an inspector out toward Owl Marsh."

Stormont nodded, looking down at the dogs.

"What are they, Jim?" "Otter-hounds," said Darragh. "A breed of my own. . . . But that's all they are capable of hunting, I guess," he added grimly.

Stormont's gaze questioned him.

"Well," said Darragh, "I left my two guests at Harrod Place to amuse each other, got out three couple of my otter-hounds and started them—as I hoped and supposed—on Quintana's trail."

"What happened?" inquired Stormont curiously.

"Well—I don't know. I think they were following some of Quintana's gang—for a while, anyway. After that, God knows—deer, hare, cotton-tail—I don't know. They yelled their bally heads off—I on the run—they're slow dogs, you know—and whatever they were after either fooled them or there were too many trails. . . . I made a mistake, that's all. These poor beasts don't know anything except an otter. I just hoped they might take Quintana's trail if I put them on it."

They had been talking for twenty minutes, possibly, exchanging scarcely a word, and they were now nearing the hilly basin where Star Pond lay, when Darragh said abruptly:

"I'm going to tell you about things, Jack. You've taken my word so far that it's all right—"

"Naturally," said Stormont simply.

The two men, who had been brother officers in the Great War, glanced at each other, slightly smiling.

"Here it is then," said Darragh. "When I was on duty in Riga for the Intelligence Department, I met two ladies in dire distress, whose mansion had been burned and looted, supposedly by the Bolsheviks."

"They were actually hungry and penniless; the only clothing they possessed they were wearing. These ladies were the Countess Orloff-Strelwitz, and a young girl, Theodora, Grand Duchess of Esthonia."

"I did what I could for them. After a while, I found out that the crime had been perpetrated by Joe Quintana's gang of international crooks masquerading as Bolsheviks."

Stormont nodded: "I also came across similar cases," he remarked.

"Well, this was a flagrant example. Quintana had burnt the chateau and had made off with over two million dollars worth of the little Grand Duchess's jewels—among them the famous Froie gem known as The Flaming Jewel."

"I've heard of it."

REV. B. M. BRIDGES GIVES FACTS IN HIS CASE

It is doubtful if there has ever been a medicine endorsed by so many ministers of the Gospel as has Tanlac. Indeed, there is scarcely a faith, creed or domination in all the land in which one, or more, of the clergymen has not publicly expressed their indebtedness to the Premier Preparation for the benefits they have derived from its use.

One of the latest to speak out in this connection is Rev. B. M. Bridges, a widely known and beloved Baptist preacher, residing at Mooresboro, N. C., whose statement follows:

"Tanlac has given me a good appetite, toned up my system and renewed my strength in such a gratifying way that I am glad to recommend it to anyone who is in a run-down condition. For ten years past I have had such a severe case of indigestion that I could not find any thing to eat that agreed with me. Finally I became very nervous and could get but very little sleep at rest."

"It seems that I took nearly everything trying to get myself right, but nothing helped me until I ran across Tanlac. My nerves are so much better now that my sleep is sound and refreshing. I enjoy my meals and have also gained weight. I can say from experience that Tanlac is a splendid medicine and tonic, for it has built me up wonderfully."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

"First—For the purpose of practicing with the weapon."

"Second—To defend his life or the life of some one or more persons."

"Third—In apprehending a felon who is fleeing from arrest and then only after every known method had been used and the officer is absolutely certain that the felon will escape. Never to be used in misdemeanor cases."

Whenever possible the writer summarizes a chapter of discussion into a brief outline as the foregoing one. This naturally makes the book easy to comprehend, entertaining reading, and an ideal for text book purposes.

"Oh, Jim! Both otters crawled into the drain! I think your dogs must have killed one of them under water. There's a big patch of blood spreading off shore."

"Yes," said Darragh, "something has just been killed, somewhere."

"Yes!" "Pull both your guns and come up here, quick!" (Continued in Our Next Issue)

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The Twins crawled along the old man's beard, right through the sky from Mars to Jupiter.

They were searching still for Mother Goose's broom.

When they arrived, they unhooked the end of the old man's beard from the star point where it had caught when he threw it, and the last they saw of him, he was winding it up again on his garden-hose wheel.

"Thank you!" called Nancy and Nick, waving their hands.

"You're welcome!" answered the old man waving back to them.

Jupiter was a queer place, just as queer as Mars, but much bigger. The children looked around curiously.

Suddenly someone came toward them running as fast as he could. When he saw them he stopped suddenly and put his hands behind his back.

"Who're you?" he demanded.

"Nancy and Nick," answered the little boy quickly. "I know who you are. I can tell by your hat. You're the Knave of Hearts and you're taking the queen's tarts. You've got them now."

Just then the queen herself came running up, all out of breath, her crown on one side of her head and her kitchen apron untied. "Oh, you rascal!" she cried. "Give me those tarts at once. I made them for my tea party this afternoon, for King Cole and the King and Queen of Six Pence. The poor thing got so tired of bread and honey, I thought I'd give them a treat. And now you've stolen 'em!"

The Knave of Hearts looked guilty and handed them over.

"And now, my dears, what are you after?" asked the good queen.

"Mother Goose's broom!" said Nancy. "She's lost it."

"If I had it this very minute," declared the queen, looking at her son sternly.

POLICE WORK AS ART TOLD IN NEW BOOK

"The Policemen Art," George F. Chardler's new book published by Funk & Wagnalls Co. at $1.50.

"The Policemen Art" is a book which the layman will find filled with information which he can put into use almost every day—for it gives him a clearer understanding of his rights as a citizen; automobile traffic and parking rules and regulations; explanations of various crimes; the scope of warrants of arrests for various breaches of law; the questions he will be asked if a witness.

The book is written by the Superintendent of the Department of State Police, New York State. His book is a digest of the most important subjects taught at the New York State school for police and has been authorized for use in the school. It will undoubtedly prove valuable to policemen and police officials, as well as magistrates, justices of the peace, and all others whose duties are the protection of the public, and the maintenance of peace.

The work includes a brief history of first aid, the use of firearms, horsemanship, and others closely allied subjects.

There are just three conditions under which it is permissible for a peace officer to draw a revolver or rifle, declares the author. They are:

Observe Young People's Night

Last night was Young People's night at the Baptist Evangelistic meetings being held by Rev. J. E. Naylor, evangelist. In spite of the fact that it was a "spooky" night for most youngsters, there was quite a respectable congregation out to hear Rev. Naylor on the subject, "Life More Abundant".

The speaker emphasized the fact that many people today are coming to see the vanity of life when the whole energy of life is centered on wealth, pleasures and other things which do not give permanent satisfaction. "The world has had an unusual chance to try out these things the last few years," he said. "We all want life and as much of it as we can get, but it makes all the difference in our interpretation of life and the way we go about getting it," he declared.

Gentility even to the point of perfection cannot avail to satisfy the soul looking for the life more abundant, nor can education and refinement do it, was his opinion. Simply to be decent and pay one's debts are not enough; every individual should be that honest anyway. But the life abundant is found in deeper vain than that. It comes from being closely allied with Christ and his program in the world, said Mr. Naylor. "There are three classes of people, the working Christians who are up and going for righteousness, those who have to be handled very carefully lest they kick over and those who are apparently dead but on being connected with divine power become active for Christ".

The subject of the sermon tonight will be, "Cast Your Vote for Christ." This is to be a revival campaign night. Everybody is asked to be present.

Instant Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Oats Are Ready Before the man is dressed

There is now an Instant Quaker Oats, perfected by our experts. It cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes—far quicker than any other oats you can buy. And it cooks to perfection.

If that means anything to you, it's another reason for always getting Quaker Oats.

The same exquisite flavor

Quaker Oats are world-famed for their flavor. Millions of oat lovers send over seas to get them. In every country this is the favorite brand.

They are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavorful oats. All flavorless grains are discarded. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these delicious flakes.

Instant Quaker employs those same queen grains. But the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Now you have your choice at equal price. Regular Quaker with its matchless flavor. Instant Quaker with that same flavor, plus five-minute cooking.

But you get neither of those qualities unless you insist on the Quaker brand.

Place of Semi-Finals Game in State Championship Is Decided Upon

Bismarck's high school football team will play Williston here at 3 p. m. Saturday afternoon in the semi-finals for the state championship. It was announced by Coach Houser today after an exchange of telegrams with the Williston management. The local management asked that the game be played on a neutral field and Minto was chosen.

The Bismarck squad will consist of 15 players, this being the limit permitted to be taken on a trip in the semi-finals. If Bismarck is victorious and Fargo also wins her game with Cavalier it is probable that the state championship will be settled on the Bismarck field.

The 15 men to represent the Bismarck team, positions weight and experience, follows:

Name	Weight	Yrs.
LE Lou Serogins	165	3
LT Edward Scott (Capt.)	170	3
LG Sterling Reed	160	3
C Earl Benzer	165	1
RG Hamilton Rhud	170	2
RT Emil Kline	160	1

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS.
Minto, N. D., Nov. 1.—That Williston, football champions of northwestern North Dakota and Bismarck, titleholders of the southwest district, will clash on the local gridiron here Saturday afternoon for the honors of western North Dakota, seemed assured today with receipt of word from Supt. Harry Polk of the Williston schools, stating that he would arrive in Minto date today to make arrangements with local school officials for the contest.

Sensational Plays
Feature Football
Game of "Vikings"

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 1.—Flying tackles, long runs and forward passes featured the hair-raising football battle between the "Vikings" and the "Janes" of George Peabody College for teachers yesterday.

These are usual happenings in gridiron contests, but the opposing eleven in this instance were girls. Twenty-one football players recruited from the more daring students, bucked the line, ran the ends, and kicked with all the abandon of men.

The "Vikings" triumphed yesterday by a score of seven to nothing. Miss Virginia Berger crossing the line after a run of 22 yards and dragging a number of tacklers with her. The ball stayed in the center of the field for the greater part of the game. The Peabody girls claim the football championship of the "universe among the fair sex."

MICHIGAN HAS GOOD MACHINE

New York, Nov. 1.—Michigan, headed toward a Western conference championship with one of the greatest gridiron machines "Hurricane" Yost has drilled in several years, is the only major college in the country whose eleven has not been scored on this season, according to a recapitulation of records to date.

The Wolverines were held to a scoreless tie by the southern team, Vanderbilt, but have won decisively from Case, Ohio State and Illinois, the latter two being conference opponents.

SMALLER TEAMS
HAVE GAMES

With most of the larger teams of the state not scheduled because of the possibility of playing in the semi-finals of the State Championship, the high school games announced for the week end is not as complete as usual, while the probability exists that many games will be scheduled in the final moments. None of the teams regarded as being among the first rank are listed in nine contests, one third of which are played without of state teams.

The games announced are:

Breckenridge, Minn. at Hankinson, Ellendale at LaMoure.
Jociah at Baker, Mont.
Minto at Enderlin.
Butteville at Westphale.
Bismarck at Lemmon, S. D.
Lisbon at Lidgerwood.
Drayton at Minto.
Hamilton at St. Thomas.

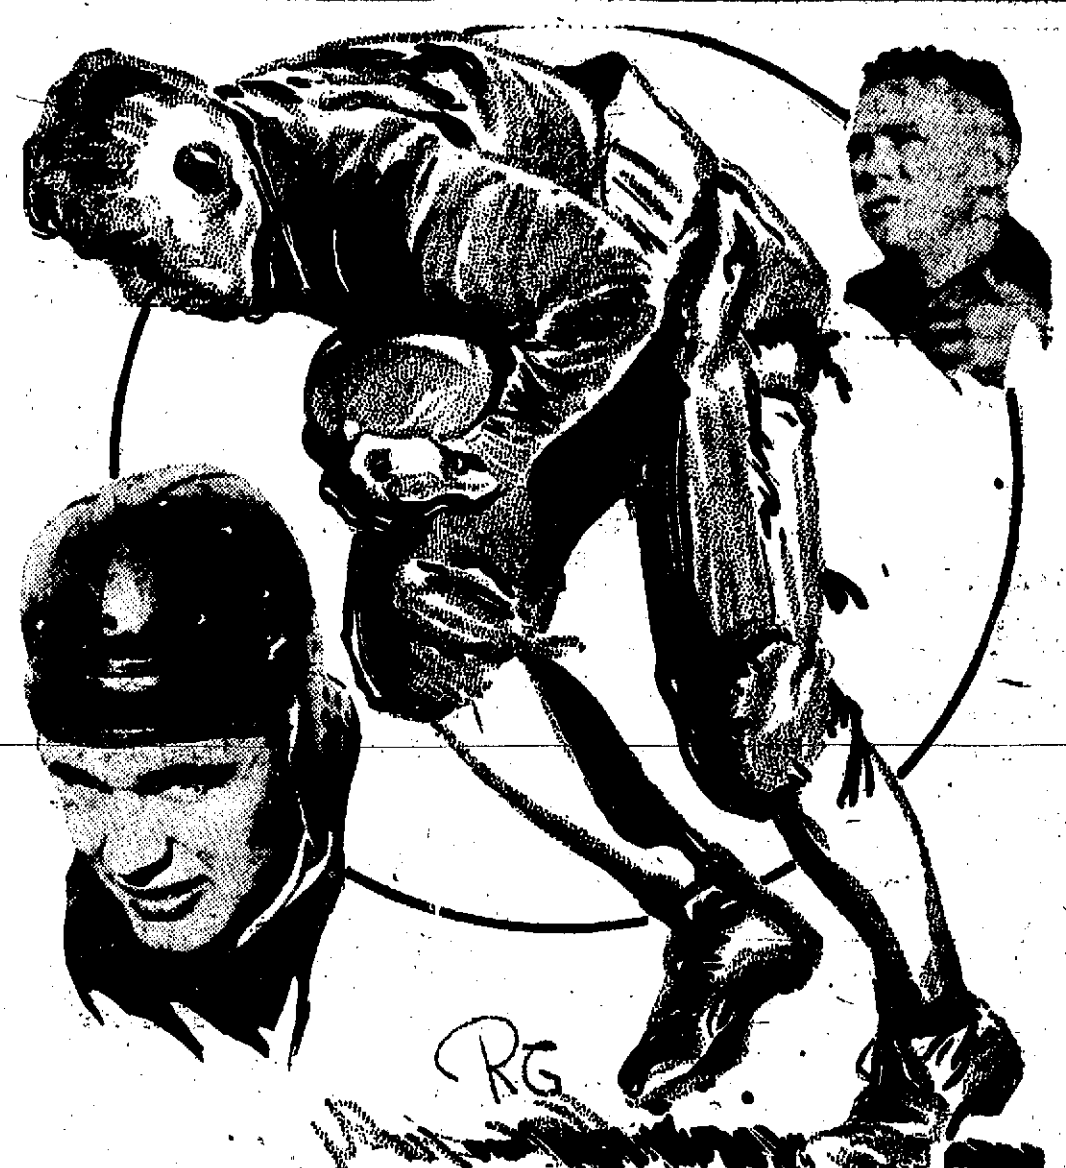

Billy Evans Says—

A year ago at this time the sporting pages of the country were filled with glowing reports of the deeds of Glen Killinger, football star at Penn State.

At the close of the season Killinger was universally picked as a member of the All-American backfield selected by every football expert in the country.

Then came the announcement that Killinger, also a college baseball star, had signed with the New York

LOWER LEFT, CAPTAIN CALLAND; CENTER, BAKER; UPPER RIGHT, KINCAID.

The University of Southern California enters its first year in the Pacific Coast Conference with an inexperienced but fighting team.

Only three members of last year's eleven are in school. The loss of eleven regulars is quite a task for Coach Henderson to surmount.

Captain Calland at fullback, Tierna at center and Kincaid at half are the three stars around whom Coach Henderson must build his

The first big game of the year for Southern California is the meeting with California on Oct. 28. Last season California won, 38 to 7.

Coach Henderson has little hope of making much of a showing against the champion California aggregation. He is pointing his team to the game with Washington State on Nov. 30. By that time he hopes to have his raw material whipped into shape.

Charlie Dean, peer of the line-hitting fullbacks on the coast last year, is gone. In his place Coach Henderson has Roy Baker, who has already earned the sobriquet of "Ironhorse" from his teammates.

Baker bids fair to equal the deeds of Dean. Baker has the ability and needs only the polishing that comes with experience. Of the new men more is expected of Baker than any other man in the squad.

CENTRE TEAM SPRINGS UNIQUE PLAY
Lockstep Shift Is Latest in Football

By Billy Evans

Even in defeat Centre College keeps the football fans talking and affords copy for the scribes. In going down to defeat before Harvard, Centre came through with something new in football, a lockstep formation, already known as the "Sing Sing" shift.

The "lockstep" shift as used by Centre in the Harvard game made the fans stare in amazement, and equally bewildered the Harvard eleven for a time at least.

After Centre had gained 50 consecutive yards by the use of the play and was in a position to score, Harvard finally was able to solve it, and perfect a defense that nullified the surprise feature of the play.

It is possible that the shift was overworked, and that Centre would have profited had they varied the style of play after getting within scoring distance.

In the Harvard game Centre used four variations for the freak stunt. The shift called for a lateral march of the entire team.

The players faced the side lines and, with a lockstep, marched calmly and deliberately to either the right or left, according to the signal. Unlike most shifts there was no hurry to it, no attempt to get the opposition off its balance with a quick maneuver and a quicker thrust.

Always the shift left one of the ends far to one side—and it was he who passed the ball diagonally to the back at the apex of a diamond formation. Captain Roberts was the man who usually received the ball.

Sometimes the shift called for just one movement to the right or left. Sometimes it called for a march to the right and a return to the left, or vice versa.

There seems to be no question about the legality of the shift. With other shifts there is always an argument before the play is actually started. No such question can be raised about Centre's new stunt.

The "Sing Sing" shift calls for perfect timing. It is a lazy-looking play. Its value lies largely in the fact that it upsets the opposition since it offers possibilities for a plunge, run or pass from the formation.

Charley Moran, National League umpire and coach of Centre College, laughs at the thought of the "lockstep" shift being something new. Asked for an explanation of it he simply said:

"A similar play to the one that Centre used against Harvard was in use as far back as 1891, before any of the players who took part in the Centre-Harvard game were born. The play is so old it is now. That's all."

FIVE VARSITY CAPTAINS IN NOTRE DAME SQUAD

One reason for the remarkable success of the Notre Dame football team is the versatility of the men with whom Coach Rockne experiments. On the squad of 1922, for instance, are found the captains of the five important athletic teams of the university.

Captain Carberry, left end, is the captain of the captains, because he captains the gridiron eleven.

Paul Castner, fullback and all-American prospect because of his running, passing, punting and dropping ability, is captain of the basketball team.

Last year he pitched a no-hit no-run victory over Purdue and shut out Michigan, 5 to 0. He captained the hockey team for two seasons.

Gus Doch, right halfback, whose running against Rutgers was a sensation at the Polo Grounds last year, is captain of the track team. He is world's champion in the 440-yard low hurdles and 40-yard low hurdles, and was a member of the 1920 Olympic team of the United States.

GOOD TACKLES ARE GREAT ASSET IN FOOTBALL

Few football teams achieve greatness if lacking in highclass tackles. The tackles play a most prominent part in the success or failure of any line.

Iowa, which recently scored a brilliant 6 to 0 victory over Yale, has a good line.

No forward is playing a better game for Iowa than Tackle George Thompson of Webster City, Ia.

Thompson is big, fast and full of fight, three great essentials to an aggressive linesman.

Under Coach Howard Jones he has come fast and is now rated one of the most valuable players in the Iowa squad.

Both Kane and Castner were approached by big league scouts after the end of the 1921 baseball season, but each passed up the professional game for one more year in college.

Nell Flinn, who stepped into the right guard position when Eddie Degee had a shoulder torn, captained the hockey team which won the undisputed western college title last year.

In addition to the captains 12 other men on the squad have won letters in other sports than football. This number will be greatly increased by the end of the year when the flock of sophomores who will win football monograms this season will have had an opportunity to shine in other sports.

Continuous Play Slows
Up Shortstop Scott

Is Everett Scott, star shortstop of the New York Yankees, overdoing the continuous record stunt for games played?

Unless the records err Scott has played 986 consecutive major league games without a miss. That is indeed a most remarkable performance.

Some idea of Scott's unusual record can be gleaned from the fact that a season's play in the majors consists of 146 games. Figures show us that Scott has played almost seven full seasons without missing a ball game.

Late in September of the season just closed Scott had a close call on having his string of consecutive games shattered. However, by the use of a taxicab, and the expenditure of about $40, he managed to keep his record clean.

The New York club jumped to Chicago from that city to open the final invasion of the west. Having an off day Scott spent it at his home in Indiana. His train was delayed because of engine trouble on the day of the opening game.

Discovering that he was just 25 miles from Chicago he managed to get a taxi in the small town in which the train was held up, and by a wild ride arrived in time to get in the closing innings of the game.

Scott is a rather slight fellow, and the impression is gaining that the strain of his performance is telling on him and that on occasional rest would greatly help his work. Last season he was just an ordinary shortstop and in the world series he played away below par.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE ON NOVEMBER 7th.

After consulting your ideas of good government—what things you want to be taxed for and what not; what candidates you feel you can rely on to keep their pre-election promises and what principles you consider best as a foundation for a state government that will give you and your children the largest measure of freedom with the highest degree of protection, you will make your choice on November 7th, between two groups of candidates for state offices.

THE FIRST headed by Governor R. A. Nestos and J. F. T. O'Connor.
THE SECOND headed by ex-Attorney General William Lemke and ex-Governor Lynn J. Frazier.

What do these two groups stand for? What is their record? If elected, what may be expected of each of them.

THE FUNCTION OF GOVERNMENT

The O'Connor-Nestos group in general stands for the proposition that government should be maintained for the purpose of protecting the individual from any infringement upon his rights by others, for private ownership of property and for equal political rights for all persons irrespective of class or occupation. This group stands for the principles of government and ideals of social life which have been known as American ever since colonial days, and which expressed in the Declaration of Independence, the national constitution, state constitution, charters and statutes. These ideas are the fundamental principles of our government. It was upon that theory of government that the United States was founded and that the nation has been built. No nation in the history of the world has ever achieved such marvelous development in so short a period of time and no nation that has had so many complexities of interest and the assembling of the people of so many nations with their varied standards of civilization, has made so many of its people happy and prosperous as our country. The peasants of Europe have become landlords here. Under our form of government the servant today can become master tomorrow.

GOVERNMENT AND INDUSTRY

The Nestos-O'Connor group does not believe in the mixing and confusing of government and business. It does not believe in taxing people for all sorts of industrial experiments, because every successful business is the product of expert and economic management seldom given by political appointees, whose first care is to keep their jobs and preserve those in office, who give them jobs in return for political support.

'HOME RULE OR AUTOCRACY

The Nestos-O'Connor group believe in home rule as far as possible for all minor units of government such as county, township, city, village, school district, because by this plan freedom and popular government has grown and developed both in the more free European countries and in America.

RELIGION

The O'Connor-Nestos group believes that the Christian religion is the cornerstone of our civilization and must be perpetuated if our civilization is maintained. They stand consistent with our constitution for the proposition that sectarian religion shall not be taught in our public schools and on that same theory they insist that the principles of the Christian religion shall not be attacked or undermined either in our common schools or our higher institutions of learning.

STATE CREDIT

The Nestos-O'Connor group believe in building up the state's credit by securing outside capital for farm loans and money for marketing and operating expense. By cutting down expenses and marking out an economical and honest course in the state's business, they have made it possible to renew loans and secure credit for business men and operating capital for banks and to get cash and par for hail warrants.

NEIGHBOR RELATIONSHIP

The Nestos-O'Connor group believe that all people in North Dakota, whether on farms or not are equally interested in the success of the farming and in the development of the state's coal fields, clay deposits and natural resources. The banker, the merchant, the grain dealer, the implement and machinery dealer and all mechanics depend on the agricultural products of North Dakota for success in their work. Consistent in service for agriculture. Accordingly, co-operation, good will and mutual helpfulness should mark their business and social relations.

SWINDLERS AND SWINDLING

The Nestos-O'Connor group believes that the public officials should not use either their offices or public funds for the promotion of privately owned business or that false representations should be used or permitted as a means of getting the thrifty and industrious people of the state to part with their hard-earned savings for any purpose and much less for stores that are not established, banks that are lusted and large commissions for radical newspaper promoters.

PROMISES AND POLITICAL TACTICS

The Nestos-O'Connor group believes in carrying on its political campaigns in a respectable manner and employing only fair and decent tactics and does not believe in resorting to deliberate misrepresentation and impossible promises in order to secure votes. Every promise made by this group in the recall election has been kept. Almost twice as many farm loans have been made in nine months by the Nestos administration as the Frazier administration made in twenty-eight months. The mill and elevator project which had been abandoned, with scarcely more than the foundations for a part of the project laid, is now in running order. Promises to reduce the cost of running the state government have also been kept.

As a voter you will have to choose between these two sets of ideas and principles, these two records and these two programs. If you consider the matter of taxes, credit, social welfare and good government as these affect you and yours, there can be but one choice.

The Nestos-O'Connor group stands for your interests and not for visionary schemes brought into our country by wild-eyed and crazed fanatics and radicals from Europe.

Let us be Americans who stand for American ideals and principles first, last, and all the time.

For the hard times and low prices, time, together with co-operation of all classes, must bring a remedy. The white race eats wheat bread and cannot afford to have the farmers shift over into other crops even for a season. Breaking the wheat grower would be suicide for the race.

Vote for common sense. Vote for the whole Nestos-O'Connor ticket from top to bottom. Carry an O'Connor-Nestos card of instructions or a marked voters' practice sheet with you into the booth in order that you may not make a single mistake.

CANADA'S O. K. WOULD START LAKE PROJECT

Senator Townsend of Michigan Asserts It Is Only Think Blocking It

SEES BIG BENEFIT

Chicago, Nov. 1.—As soon as Canada consents to the United States project for the St. Lawrence river-Great Lakes ocean waterway, work will be undertaken, Senator Charles E. Townsend of Michigan declared today in an address before the Chicago Association of Commerce.

"With a twenty foot channel between Chicago and Montreal, 80 per cent of all ocean vessels now sailing from the United States ports could come into the Great Lakes and there are only 34 miles of physical obstacles in the way of this development," said the senator.

"With a distance of 34 miles above Montreal lie all the physical obstacles of importance in the way of this development. The Welland canal already is in process of completion on a plan which will accommodate ocean going ships. Some little stretches of the waterway between the lakes will need some improvement, as will the harbors which the ocean ships will make on the Great Lakes."

"By the construction of dams to overcome obstacles in the St. Lawrence river sufficient electrical power will be developed to more than warrant the investment of two hundred and fifty-two million dollars even if no ocean ships ever passed between the lake and the Atlantic," Senator Townsend said.

"The objection that this waterway will not be all American, but will be constructed for the benefit of two countries is without merit," he declared. "It is an international stream and the latent power within it belongs to the countries."

"Every argument against the project has been answered, and it is more than plausible that within the near future a really mercenary purpose may be proven against those who oppose us."

"As soon as Canada consents to the request of the United States the project will be undertaken and completed, and the lake ports will assume the importance which their location clearly suggests."

GIRL INMATES ENDANGERED

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 1.—The lives of several girl inmates were endangered and one building was destroyed yesterday when fire broke out for the first time in the entire set of buildings at the state home school for girls at Sauk Center, Minn., according to a telephone communication received by Warren, E. Pugh, chief of police, from the acting superintendent of the institution.

COUNTY AGENT WAGES BATTLE UPON BLACKLEG

Blackleg, which annually caused the loss of more than one thousand head of cattle in McKenzie county up to seven years ago, has practically disappeared as a result of the work of County Agent M. B. Johnson, who has personally vaccinated more than 10,000 head of cattle against this disease, and has distributed 25,000 doses of government vaccine to farmers of the county free of charge during the last seven years.

While more than two percent of the cattle died each year from blackleg before Mr. Johnson took up this work, vaccination has now become such a common practice that the losses each year are negligible. In this connection it is interesting to note that county extension work costs the taxpayers 27 cents each year per quarter section of land. Saving of one yearling from the disease of blackleg saves the owner enough money so that he can pay his taxes for county agent work for the rest of his life and still have a balance left to his credit.

BAND TO BE ORGANIZED

St. Yates, N. D., Nov. 1.—A twenty-eight piece Agency and School band is to be organized here in the near future. A full set of instruments are being ordered and plans are being perfected. Moses Wilkins formerly conducted a school band. Mr. Goodman, the new school disciplinarian is also said to be a band man of considerable ability.

SOLDIER CLAIMS RECORD BROKEN

Adjutant-General Sends Out Checks for Over $50,000

All records of payments of soldiers' compensation claims were broken this morning when the Adjutant-General's office delivered every warrant that can be paid in November to the postoffice for transmission to recipients.

An estimate had been made by the Auditor and Adjutant-General of the amount that probably would be available November 1st from collections reported during October.

The Adjutant-General sent out vouchers in advance and as fast as returned the state auditor executed the warrants, with the date blank. This morning the apportionment was made by Auditor Poindexter, the warrants were dated, signed and before noon the entire number was on postoffice.

One hundred and fifty claims were paid, amounting to something over $50,000. The holders of these 150 claims were saved about three weeks' time by this manner of handling the claims.

The message is in reply to one which Mr. Wilson forwarded to the commission on Monday of this week, urging that drastic steps be taken to bring the northwest west cars.

HERBS USED IN MEDICINES

A Manchester, England, paper urges the renewed cultivation of old-fashioned medicinal herbs in English gardens. In the United States they have also gone out of fashion as a feature of the small garden, although they are imported in large quantities from Turkey, India and China, where they are grown purely for commercial purposes, as their medicinal value is recognized by many leading physicians. Tons of medicinal herbs are used annually in the preparation of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most successful medicine for women's ills. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and women afflicted with such ailments should try it.

FORGET-ME-NOT SALE PLANNED FOR DISABLED

Veterans in All Parts of the Country Would Be Benefitted by Plan

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 1.—To the many thousands of America's wounded and disabled veterans of the great war, "Forget-Me-Not Day," to be observed throughout the country on Saturday, November 4, carries a deep significance. Carrying as it does the tribute of a grateful nation to the maimed and crippled heroes, many of which are still lying on beds of pain in hospitals in all parts of the United States, "Forget-Me-Not Day" is to be observed this year on a most extensive scale. Practically every city and town in the United States is to participate in the great national sale of the little forget-me-nots, with corps of pretty girls and women distributing the flowers to the citizens. The entire proceeds of the "day" are to go to the welfare and relief of the disabled American veterans of the great war, regardless of their affiliation with any veterans' organization, according to announcement made recently by C. Hamilton Cook, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, the powerful national association of 100,000 wounded and disabled veterans, which is sponsoring the "Forget-Me-Not Day" activities, assisted by Citizens' Committees everywhere.

The establishment of clubhouses, creation of summer camps and numerous other projects are to be carried into a reality by the success of "Forget-Me-Not" next Saturday. Not only in each community will the disabled men be benefited, but the wounded veterans all over the country are to be aided by the movement.

Saturday, November 4th, National "Forget-Me-Not Day," takes its place among the recognized "Days" in the United States; and the sentiment of the Day is indeed an appealing one. It will be observed in Bismarck.

A Vicious Omission

VOTERS' PRACTICE SHEETS have been posted in the city of Bismarck.

These sheets contains three columns; namely
REPUBLICAN? DEMOCRAT INDIVIDUAL NOMINATIONS.

In the Republican column are the names of candidates that were high in the June primaries.

In the Democratic column are (only) those names that opposed successful candidates that were in favor of the FARMER'S PROGRAM.

The Individual column is left BLANK.

I appeal to all good thinking people in Burleigh County. If you were giving a pupil a PRACTICE SHEET, wouldn't you give him the entire sheet?

Are the people that arranged and printed this PRACTICE SHEET afraid of you selecting one or more of the names that SHOULD appear in the INDIVIDUAL COLUMN?

As a matter of fact the writer only sees a few names in the REPUBLICAN COLUMN that has any right to be there. The balance are all fusionists and should be in a column by themselves.

But what about INDIVIDUAL NOMINATIONS? Don't you think that the voter should have a chance to PRACTICE on him? He does not have to do the WILL of the other fellow, whether he thinks it is right or not, for fear of being called a TRAITOR.

I quote one sentence of the PRACTICE SHEET: "The ballots that will be handed to you on election day, will a trifle larger than the fac similes printed on this sheet." Had they said on this fac simile, they would have been liable (if they are) for misrepresentation.

I don't know who was responsible for this sheet but will again quote from it. "Don't forget to mark (X) after the I. V. A. candidate for official newspaper when you vote on election day."

The writer has an idea who is behind it and wants to go on record as calling him or them, Dirty Politicians.

Do you voters want to vote for people who will, by omission, leave something out of a measure in the Legislature that would be of benefit to you?

Look in the INDIVIDUAL NOMINATIONS column and vote for the candidates that have nothing to cover up, by OMISSION.
